Japan Visits Sanderson Center!

Robin Traveller had the opportunity to give a tour of the Sanderson Center to a group of young adults from Japan who are hard of hearing. They were led by Tadashi Takoka, the Managing Director of the Tokyo Social Welfare Association for People with Hearing Loss. They were in town for the Hearing Loss

Association of America (HLAA) conference in Salt Lake City and were able to make a stop to the Sanderson Center to learn more about how Utah provides programs and resources to people who are hard of hearing. The group asked a lot of questions to take back ideas to their home country. It was a well-received tour!
